For sale is a building plot in Buzet, Forčići, located in a small and well-maintained village with only 12 residents.

The building plot covers an area of 207 m², where a house and barn once stood (now removed). The plot has an official address and has secured connections for water and electricity, which significantly facilitates future construction.

In addition to the building plot, there is an additional agricultural plot of 438 m² (meadow/orchard). Although it is not a building plot, it is perfect for landscaping, gardening, or relaxing in nature.

An excellent opportunity for those seeking an authentic Istrian ambiance, peace, and privacy.
